

LACK BIG FUND; HIRE 7 LAWYERS

Arizona Liquor Men Are to Fight Prohibition Measure in Court.

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 4.—Wild rumors that the retail liquor dealers have raised a big war fund and are buying up all the legal talent in the state, preparatory to making a desperate fight against the prohibition amendment, have been in circulation through-out Arizona for several days. They have little foundation. The fund is a small one and the best the liquor men hope to do is to stave off the permanent ban for six months or so, it is claimed.

There is a committee of one dealer from each county appointed at a meeting held in Phoenix, early this month. The committee has employed seven attorneys, who are: George Purdy Bullock, Ernest W. Lewis, Thomas Armstrong, Jr., Phoenix; John B. Wright, Eugene S. Ives, Tucson; Leroy Anderson, Richard Jamison, Prescott. On their own responsibility the lawyers have secured a number of consulting attorneys. In Phoenix the list includes former governor Richard E. Riean, C. F. Alsworth, O. T. Ritchey and Benton Dick.

MRS. REHERD DIES ON TRAIN EN ROUTE BACK TO EL PASO

Mrs. W. A. Reherd, of El Paso, died last night at Yuma, Ariz., on the train en route from California to El Paso. The news of her death was wired to her son, R. J. Reherd, of El Paso, by another son, Dr. G. A. Reherd, also of this city, who was with his mother on the train at the time of death. Mrs. Reherd's death was due to organic heart trouble. She left El Paso several weeks ago, accompanied by her husband, for California, in the hope that she would be benefited by the lower altitude, but not improving, she decided to return to El Paso and rejoin her son. Dr. Reherd hastened to California to accompany his mother home and they were en route back when death overcame her. The funeral arrangements will be announced after the arrival of the body in El Paso.

FIND UNKNOWN MAN DEAD IN CAR

Body Was Still Warm When the Car Was Opened at Alamogordo.

Alamogordo, N. M., Dec. 4.—An unknown man, apparently about 35 years of age, was found dead late yesterday afternoon in a box car loaded with ties. The discovery was made by employees of the tie and lumber treating plant, when they opened the car to unload the ties. The body was removed to an undertaking establishment and a coroner's jury empaneled. The body was still warm when an examination was made by a physician, and his opinion is that death was due to pneumonia and occurred not more than three or four hours before the discovery was made. There was not a scrap of paper or a mark of any kind on the clothing to indicate the name or address of the deceased. He was fairly well dressed but had the general appearance of a box car traveler.

AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE AT MESA AND MILLS FRIDAY

While driving down Mesa avenue Friday morning shortly before 10 o'clock, a Ford car driven by E. D. Park and an Overland, driven by A. E. Mahan, collided at Mills and Mesa avenues and both cars were badly damaged. The right front wheel, lamp and fender of the Ford touring car were broken. The left front wheel of the Overland roadster was badly bent and the fender smashed.

Mr. Park was driving his Ford down Mesa avenue and Mr. Mahan was turning into Mesa avenue from Mills street when the accident occurred. The Ford crashed into the Overland and the two cars locked wheels and skidded near the sidewalk.

AUTO STRIKES TRUCK.

A Ford touring car collided with a truck owned by the Kohlberg Cigar Co. Thursday evening on Santa Fe street, and one of the fenders of the car was torn off. The Kohlberg officials say the truck was standing still on the street when the touring car skidded against a wheel and mashed the fender. The truck was not damaged.

FIRE DESTROYS HAY AND BEANS

Warehouse Burns and Contents Are Destroyed; Fireman Injured by Wall.

The old Thorne warehouse, at the corner of Virginia and First streets, was totally destroyed by fire which started at 12:10 o'clock Friday morning. The building and the contents, consisting principally of hay and Mexican beans, are a total loss.

The building, which was constructed of corrugated iron on a wooden frame-work, was ablaze all over when the fire department arrived. Switchmen in the Texas & Pacific yards state that the building was in flames by the time the alarm was turned in, and the saving of the building and contents was impossible. Assistant fire chief John Sullivan, upon his arrival, turned in a second alarm, bringing the entire department to the scene.

After several hours of work the flames were reduced to a smoldering mass of baked hay, which is still burning. The necessity for putting out the fire, a bale at a time, is consuming much time.

Fireman Is Hurt

Ed Hamlin, a fireman, was painfully but not seriously injured, when the east wall of the warehouse fell. He was rushed to the emergency hospital, where his wounds were dressed, and later he was removed to his home. He was bruised on the leg and on his left shoulder.

The origin of the fire is not known. The warehouse contained approximately 6000 bales of alfalfa and prairie hay, and a little over a carload of Mexican beans. The hay is a total loss, but a portion of the beans will probably be saved.

The loss to building and contents is estimated at between $6000 and $6500. The building was valued at $2500 and was owned by Richard H. Thorne. The insurance amounted to approximately $450. The contents were the property of the Western Sales company, West Texas Fuel company and the South New Mexican Farmers' association, of Anthony, N. M.

WILEY WINS IN SUIT WITH CITY

Fourth Trial of Oregon Street Case Results in Verdict For Negro.

The case of the city of El Paso vs. W. W. Wiley, in which the city is suing for possession of South Oregon street, between Seventh and Eighth streets, resulted in a verdict by the jury in favor of Wiley. This was the fourth trial of the case, the three previous juries having disagreed. The city gave notice that they would ask for another trial of the case. If this is refused it is probable that the city will have the Wiley property condemned and will sue the negro for the ground in question.

Sixty witnesses were examined during the trial. Among the witnesses there were many picturesque characters, many of the witnesses for Wiley being old negroes who came here during the civil war in the United States army and who, upon being mustered out, remained here to live.

Wiley is a picturesque character, claiming to be almost 80 years old. He claims to have taken up the property in controversy in 1875. His examination developed the fact that he had been in Mexico as a body servant with Gen. Winfield Scott.

Wiley's case as he makes it out, and his ability to locate himself here when he claims to have come, hinges upon the fact that he was the best known fiddler of the earlier times. His recollections were much sought in the gambling houses and likewise at all dances.

His memory is surprisingly clear on events of long ago. He recalls various weddings at which he played and of well known people still living in El Paso.
